We Are For Zero

We strive towards zero harm for everyone – our people, our customers and the communities we serve – by placing care and wellbeing at the centre of everything we do.

Our Work Health & Safety Policy reflects our commitment to:

Safe people
– creating a culture where everyone feels empowered to stay safe, knows how to identify exposures and how to apply critical controls to minimise exposure to risk.

Safe leaders
– who identify exposures in the workplace through collaboration and data analysis, and engaging their team members to identify issues, problem solve, establish controls and enable the right behaviours as a collective.

Safe work environments
– focusing on the most critical safety exposures and concerns first: mental health & wellbeing, serious injury & fatality incidents and manual handling.
